Section 16. Determination of Heirs

When any member of the Tribe dies leaving property other than an allotment or other trust property subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, any member claiming to be an heir of the decedent may bring a suit in the Papago Tribal Court or any District Court to have the Court determine the heirs of the decedent and to divide among the heirs such property of the decedent.

No determination of heirs shall be made unless all the possible heirs known to the Court, to the Superintendent and to the claimant have been notified of the suit and given full opportunity to come before the Court and defend their interests. Possible heirs who are not residents of the reservation under the jurisdiction of the Court must be notified by mail and a copy of the notice must be preserved in the record of the case.

In the determination of the heirs the Court shall apply the custom of the Tribe as to inheritance.

Where the estate of the decedent includes any interest in restricted allotted lands or other property held in trust by the United States, over which the Examiner of Inheritance would have jurisdiction, the Papago Tribal Court or appropriate District Court may distribute only such property as does not come under the jurisdiction of the Examiner of Inheritance, and the determination of heirs by the Court may be reviewed, on appeal, and the judgment of Inheritance, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior if law and justice so require.

Section 17. Approval of Wills

When any member of the tribe dies leaving a will disposing only of property other than an allotment or other trust property subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, the Papago Tribal Court or appropriate District Court shall, at the request of any member of the tribe named in the Will or any other interested party, determine the validity of the Will after giving notice and full opportunity to appear in court to all persons who might be heirs of the decedent as under Section 16 of this Chapter.

A Will shall be deemed to be valid if the decedent had a sane mind and understood what he was doing when he made the Will and was not subject to any undue influence or any kind from another person, and if the Will was made in accordance with the proved Tribal custom or made in writing and signed by the decedent in the presence of two witnesses who also signed the Will.

If the court determines the will to be validly executed it shall order the property described in the Will to be given to the persons named in the Will or to their heirs; but no distribution of property shall be made in violation of the proved Tribal custom which restricts the privilege of the Tribal members to distribute property by Will.

Section 18. Adoption of Minors

When a person dies intestate, unmarried, and with issue, or survived by a spouse not a parent of the decedent issue, the blood relative of the decedent shall decide as to the adoption of the minor children of the decedent. In the event of a dispute among the relatives as to who shall adopt, as provided herein, any dissatisfied relative may appeal to the Papago Tribal Court, and the said Court after due notice and hearing, may render a decision, and such decision shall be final and conclusive.

Section 19. Non-Compliance with Code
